as cheep, and produce command as high a price at Brunswick as at Charleston or New Orleans. Ships from Liverpool, Bordeaux, or the East Indies, can go to Brunswick as readily as to New York or charleston; and many causes combine to render this the cheapest comme cial port in the United States. Among these are the deep water—the beld shore—the city side from which wharves can be readily and cheaply projected—the facility of approach to the harbor, no pilotage being necessary, and there being no currents to contend against—the safe anchorage, and the healthy climats. There will be no delay either in running into port or putting out to sea—no heavy river charges—and no loss of time to increase the cost of merchandise.

The busy hum of a large, industrious and energetic population, will soon be heard in the streets of Brunswick. Feamen and ships will be profitably employed there. Cotton, grain, sugar, tobacco, lead, ports, wool, and every other home production, will go there; and the merchants of large capital will seen find lucrative obects in which it can be invested Yards for building ships, factories for making carriages, and for other mechanical and manufacturing purposes, will be established on a large scale. Blacksmiths and shipswights are already there, and the prices of lumber and the wages of mechanics are much the same as in the timber regions of Maine—no higher. Steam mills are now in process of erection, and it is believed that at least five hundred vessels will be laden with lumber for the English and Fronch markets, and for the Northern States, during the next season.

hundred vessels will be laden with lumber for the English and French markets, and for the Northern States, during the next season.

The tide of emigration has already turned towards Brunswick. Large quantities of land are being purchased on the waters of the Alatamaha. Experienced lumbermen from Maine and North Carolina are engaged in the enterprise. Some of them are erecting sawmills to go into operation immediately on the completion of the canal. Cotton houses and cotton presses will also be erected. Mercantile houses for lumber, agencies for the purchase of cotton, turpentine agencies, banking houses, and commercial projects of every description, will spring into existence immediately on the opening of the port.

Various powerful causes are at work to build up, in this new field of enterprise a trade and business far outreaching any reasonable estimate which the directors are willing at this time to lay before the public. It is sufficient for them to know that the day is near at hand when the city and port of Brunswick will present to the country a solid, permanent structure of commercial and maritime prosperity, not surpassed in its relative importance, by that of any port on the American continent.

The Tolke was built in the most thörough manner for a regalar packet ship from New Tork, her accommodations for passengers being constructed on an improved plan, and without regard to expense well ventilated, spacious and situant, fitted with but two tiers of borths, nearly all single, the same height of cabin, (any seven feet), where as other slips have three tiers of double bertia. The berths in the second eabin are built so as to leave an airy and light passage way next the sides of the ship, thus avoiding the banging knees of the ship in the berths; also the nanseous and unihealthy stench arising from blige water at the air company and the state of the ship in the berths; also the nanseous and unihealthy stench arising from blige water at the air with a skilful physician. Our provision will be pleased with care, and be of the best quality. One-forth of passage mency remitted will secure a passage, for which apply to THOMAS H. SANDY AS South street.

THOMAS H SANDFORD, 50 South street.

JOHN WILLIAMS, VETERINARY SURGEON, respectfully informs his numerons friends and the public, that he continues practising successfully on the different discenses incidental to that noble animal, the horse, at the new fire proof establishment, with twenty two box satilities for sick horses, at the sign of the Goldon Horse, No. 131 Chrysties street, between Brooms and Delancy, Now York. Bono and blood spayin, curbs and ringbone, can be perfectly cured by operation. Fissula and poll evil can be cured perfectly without broaking the skin. (This discovery has been recently made by Dr. Williams.) Dr. Williams, in thanking Manumerous friends for their kind patronage during a period of twenty-five years in this city, receiving from eight bundred to one thousand horses per annum, begs a continuance of their favors. Dr. W. s axperience for examining horses for soundness, favore neither party.
